Voter Turnout – All Counties Reporting

State Capitol – Secretary of State Max Maxfield has issued updated information regarding statewide voter turnout. “Early morning figures indicated a good, solid voter turnout,” Maxfield stated. “Now that all counties have reported their complete unofficial results, the turnout proves to be larger. The turnout yesterday was 105 percent of registered voters and 65 percent of all those of voting age voted,” Maxfield said. It is possible to have a turnout of over 100 percent of registered voters voting because Wyoming allows Election Day voter registration.

“Some results came to us slowly last night and into this morning because of the high number of absentee ballots needing to be counted. All counties have now reported and I am even more pleased with the participation of Wyoming’s voters in this General Election,” Maxfield stated.
